If I want to select all these objects so I can move them to a different place on the orange rectangle, and I drag out the black box to emcompass all the objects I want to move as a unit, it INCLUDES the orange background because the box I drew is touching the object.